cently has been associate director of SPIER (Supporting Program in Education through Intracommunity Resources), a federally financed program under Title III, out of the Riverside County Superintendent's office.

Raised and educated in Illinois, Gumbrell moved to California in 1955. He is a graduate

He was also dean and assistant superintendent of Morgan Park Academy and Morgan Park Junior College in Illinois.

As a teacher, the new principal specialized in English, speech, journalism, and dramatics, both in Illinois and Southern California.

Gumbrell will be officially on the job July 5. He has been in the area touring the high school and meeting with teachers, but has returned to Southern California to arrange for moving his family to the Peninsula. He is married, with sons 20 and 19 years old, and a daughter who is 7.

Brownell state inheritance tax appraiser for Monterey County

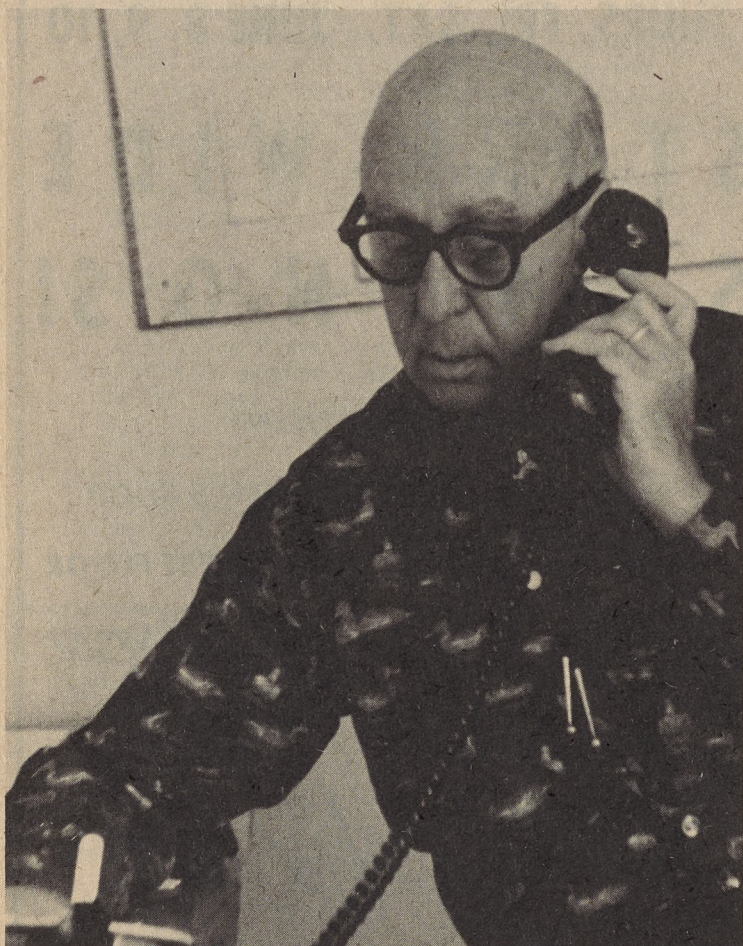

Herb Brownell, newly-appointed state inheritance tax appraiser for Monterey County, has been a Carmel Valley resident since 1929. For most of that time he has been in the real estate business.

Brownell is a Republican and a former Monterey County deputy assessor. He will succeed Mrs. Edgar Viall of Pebble Beach in the job of County Assessor.

"This appointment by state controller, Houston Flournoy, may only be a sixty or ninety day job," Brownell commented. This is due to Senate Bill #2 which has passed the assembly and will soon come before the Senate.

Lambs again attacked by dogs

Spring lamb killing season seems to be with us again. Two lambs, owned by young 4-H Club members were viciously attacked early Tuesday. One died that morning and Dr. Gerry Petkus was trying to save the life of the second.

The two small animals belonged to Larry Martin, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, and Kim Kvenild, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kvenild. The youngsters had just become 4-H Club members and had acquired the lambs on Saturday. They were being kept at the Martin property on El Caminito.

The animals were in a fenced pen with a sturdy five-foot gate which had been ripped open. Black guard-hairs and beige under-hairs caught on the wood indicated the possibility of a German shepherd as the culprit. Mrs. Martin had seen a German shepherd with two labradors on nearby Via Milpitas earlier.

El Caminito is about 1/2 mile from the Flight Road area where the two lambs belonging to Mike Anderson were slaughtered last spring.

At that time, the method of attack indicated a large dog, and an appeal was made to dog owners to check their animals for blood. Considerable blood was also shed in this new killing.

VETERINARIAN Gerald Petkus was unable to save the life of the lamb belonging to Larry Martin.

CVPOA asks Branson back for Sept. meet

Amid an atmosphere of unrest and dissatisfaction, the board of directors of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association voted last Thursday to ask Supervisor Willard Branson back in early September to continue the discussion which he left unfinished at the general membership meeting last month. Comments from members as well as directors have indicated considerable resentment over the fact that Branson had cut short a meeting which had been planned and publicized extensively, because of a "previous engagement."

Items which he had been asked to discuss such as parks, scenic easements, green belts, and the Valley "G" zone, were not covered at that meeting.

In addition the board felt that those which he did discuss such as the four lane road, slope density, flood control, and water conservation had not been covered fully and gave no indication of what the Valley populace could expect from the new supervisor in the way of support at the county level.

Because of his early departure there had been no time to question Branson further on

C.L. Underwood, CVPOA president, stated that the invitation would be repeated, with the request that Branson plan on spending the entire meeting-time at the September gathering in discussion with the membership.

JACKS PEAK LAND

Salvage of one of the last pieces of acreage left in the originally proposed Monterey Pines Park was also proposed by the CVPOA Board at last Thursday's meeting.

They will request the county supervisors to find a means of financing acquisition of the 55

Look Who's No. 1 . . . SVS!

Well . . . when it comes to size, Salinas Valley Savings is really only No. 27. Of course, we think 27th out of some 200 California chartered Savings & Loan Associations is pretty impressive.

Now, about that "No. 1." There are only 46 associations with assets of more than $100,000,000. SVS is one of them.

In this group we rank No. 1 in ratio of net profit to total capital for the year 1966.

We also rank No. 1 in Scheduled Items (lack of foreclosures and general loan delinquency rate.)

We even rank No. 7 in percentage of savings growth.

Proud? You bet we are!

We not only try harder . . . we succeed more!

EDITORIALS

Scouts - civic contributors

The Outlook regularly reports the activities of the Carmel Valley Boy Scouts... their pack trips, hikes and meetings. Since some of our readers may not follow their stories, we would like to call attention to the

Farewell, principals

Carmel School District is about to lose two principals who have contributed much to its excellence and harmony.

After 15 years here, Principal Warren Edwards is leaving for Athens, Greece, to head a high school for American and international students.

Bill Mallek, who has been principal of Tularcitos School for 9 years, will study at the University of Oregon on his sabbatical this coming school year. On his return he won't be lost to the district, his many friends will be happy to know, for he has in mind moving to the less confining responsibilities of high school teaching here.

Both these fine men leave reservoirs of good will at their schools. We wish their successors, yet to be announced, the best in continuing their success. Well liked and respected, both principals have run their schools with understanding and kindness, plus the right touch of firmness and diplomacy.

An editorial in "The Sandpiper," the Carmel High paper, epitomizes the appreciation and the strength of Warren Edwards. It is by Rick Strasburger, then editor of the paper. The editorial follows:

fact that part of every report includes such comments as "We cleaned up the Community Center before we left," or "The Scouts picked up trash in the Village prior to the hike."

In addition to regular community cleanups, the boys always make a practice of improving campsites, stacking firewood for future campers or clearing trails whenever they go on a hike.

Recently before leaving on a back pack trip to the Pinnacles, the boys spent more than an hour picking up trash, bottles, paper, and weeded around shrubs in

tor of the paper. The editorial follows:

'Credit where it's due'

"A lot of students don't like high school. That's tradition. And a lot of students don't like Carmel High School, although they seldom offer another school as a point of comparison.

"If the students had a point of comparison, they might be able to sense the one thing that exists at CHS, that is so often missing elsewhere: academic freedom.

"Most students at this school are not aware of the privilege of the freedom of expression we have. This freedom allows the student, as a responsible member of our school, to evaluate critically an extremely wide range of material.

"In many schools such a wide scope is unknown; as one faculty member bluntly put it, 'You don't have the freedom at other schools we have here. I know. I've been there.'

"He was referring to the subjects and material openly discussed on this campus, which on other campuses would be without a doubt, taboo.

"To cite a recent case, last year a school newspaper in this area wanted to run an article on the 'Modern Morality Seminar' which was held at Monterey Peninsula College. But the high school principal would not allow the subject, which was well written and well the Village.

While they were at the park, the Scouts did a good turn for the ranger by pulling great quantities of high weeds that had grown up around the Pinnacles Park headquarters and utility buildings. These would turn dry shortly and become a fire hazard, so the boys stacked them in the open where they could be burned now.

We feel the public should be aware of the civic contributions regularly made by this group of Carmel Valley boys.

documented, to be discussed in the school paper.

"At the moment The Sandpiper is working on a similar article without any qualms.

"This freedom, this all-important facet of the educational establishment at Carmel, is not only taken for granted, but even unrecognized by students, and the trend is to overlook the liberality of the people responsible.

"Ultimately the community is the body which grants this privilege but the people directly involved with the learning establishment are the ones taking the responsibility if this privilege is abused.

"The people that should be given credit for taking the initiative and granting the student the right to set his own standards, which is the ultimate goal in the preparation for life in society, often go without praise for their courage.

"Such governing bodies as the School Board and the Superintendent are largely responsible. And carrying the main load of responsibility for what we print, read, and say is our principal, Warren Edwards.

"We of The Sandpiper are vitally concerned about academic freedom. We wish again to commend those people who guarantee our freedom."

Our best wishes to both Edwards and Mallek and the thanks of the community for their dedicated service.

PERSPECTIVE

LEONARD RHOADES of Upper Circle is probably one of the happiest and most excited Valleyites around these days.

After four years of restoration work on his Model A Ford station wagon, vintage 1928, he completed it. The final work was done just minutes before the last gymkhana event at the Fifth National Model A competition at Oroville this past weekend.

Winning first place in that, he went on for the judging and won top number of points from 26 judges... from a field of 125 cars.

Len is now planning to enter the Concours d'Elegance in Pebble Beach and the national Model A in Albuquerque, New Mexico, this summer.

THOSE ATTRACTIVE decorative letters on last week's front page and center feature were done by Kip, an employee at Rippling River. He is quite an accomplished artist as well, but just dashes off fancy letters for the fun of it.

THE "CARMEL VALLION," the local Lions Club bulletin, edited by Clyde Hitchcock, won first place in the Lions' bulletin contest for District 406, which covers an area of 46 Lions clubs from Santa Clara to San Ardo. Clyde received the award at the recent Lions' convention at Hoberg's in Lake County.

YOU KNOW who brought on the unseasonable rain?... Chip Collins, fire chief, was just about to issue an end to open burning... "unless we get rain... ha! ha!" Someone up there must still have a lot of trash to get rid of! Voila! Instant rain!

UNPLANNED obstacle presented itself in CVYO's second Road Rallye May 28.

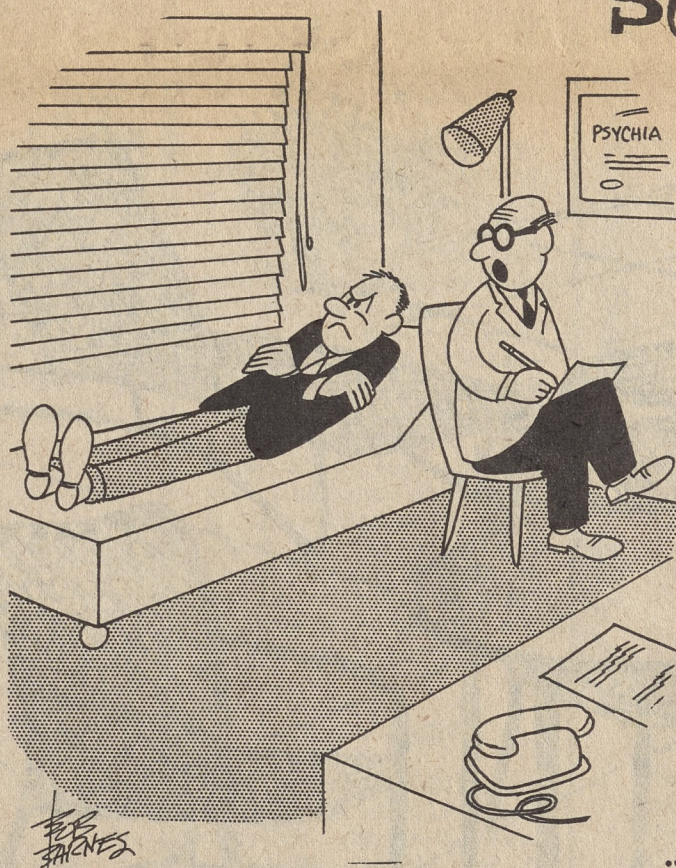

One of the problems of the entrants was to locate a certain house and describe the kind of statue in the drive.

After the departure of the first car, the homeowner draped said statue with a blanket and stood guard sporting a "Sheriff John" badge and a very large grin. He was apparently successful in intimidating a few drivers who left with a guess at what was under the blanket.

The fourth and fifth contestants, arriving almost together, were not so easily discouraged. The drivers pleaded with the homeowner for just a peek. Homeowner was adamant... navigators pleaded... homeowner was still adamant. Drivers and navigators together pleaded. Homeowner finally yielded... after all, somebody had to win.

It was Tony Rocha, driving. Danny and Darlene Tavares and Tomi France navigating. Average speed was 26.1 m.p.h.

Oh, the statue? It was a bear.

"Now, about these resentments of yours—can you go back any further than the safety-pin sticking you?"

SCHOOL NOTES

Summer swimming

The summer recreation program of the Carmel Unified School District has been announced by Charles Dawson, director of recreation.

Two sessions of swim lessons will be offered at both the Valley and Carmel High School pools. The first session will begin on July 5 and end Aug. 4, and the second will run from Aug. 7 to Aug. 25.

The maximum number of students in a class is 25 and all beginning swimmers must have completed the first grade to be eligible for lessons. Pre-school lessons will be given at the Valley pool only, for two weeks at 11:40 a.m. daily.

Pre-schoolers must be able to touch bottom and keep their heads above water. Registration will begin on Monday, June 19, for these tots, and classes will be formed at that time.

Registration at the Valley pool for beginners, advanced beginners, intermediates, advanced swimmers, diving, and Jr. and Sr. lifesaving will be held on June 7, 8, and 9 from 1 to 3 p.m.

Registration for lessons at the High School pool will take place in Bungalow 17 of Sunset Center on the same days from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1-4 p.m.

Mail and telephone registrations for both pools may be made on Monday, June 12, by calling 624-3324.

The Rhyming Philosopher

My father was able and willing and strong,
According to mother, who never was wrong.
He'd climbed many mountains and traveled abroad,
Was expert with pistols and rifle and sword.
He built her a mansion with just his bare hands,
And made lots of money to meet her demands.
Society loved him; with kids he was "in,"
But mother was always beset with chagrin;
For father could never remember the rules
While eating in public to use the right tools.
She jumped in the ocean one night near New York
'Cause Dad ate his salad and used the wrong fork!

There may be a moral in this awful tale
Which isn't available here, nor for sale.
So maybe it's risky to sail out to sea
Or ever eat out with a male chimpanzee.
I've heard of a marriage which went on the rocks
Because this wife's husband refused to wear socks!
Which is almost akin to that thumping disgrace
Inflicted by someone for trumping his ace.
Regardless, there's reasons for far braver death
Than getting upset, so at least save your breath.
If using wrong forks is the scourge of your wife,
Relieve her of tension and eat with your knife!

The Doctor says:

by Dr. James Short

(Write or phone your health questions to Dr. James Short, 103 Robles del Rio, Carmel Valley; telephone 659-4223.)

Question: What is the treatment of the menopause?

Answer: One should look forward to it as a natural phenomenon and take it in stride without fear or dread. A philosophical attitude and a sense of humor help wonderfully. Periodic health examinations, to include the pelvis and breast, are prerequisites to any specific therapy.

If all is in order, the use of hormones should be instituted. And here's where the medical controversy comes in. Should hormones be used or withheld? Many physicians have taken the position (especially in years gone by) that since the "change" is a naturally occurring process, one should let it occur with as little treatment as possible. Why should one interfere with nature?

This argument always seemed to me to be on a par with the contention of 100 years ago that a woman was supposed to suffer in childbirth, and thus to relieve pain was interfering with the will of God. No one argues that way any longer. If, as someone has said, "the hormones enable one to walk to his grave," let's give them. I'd rather walk than be carried.

Nature has provided that later in life the ovaries will fail to produce their specific hormones. When they do the woman undergoes many changes, not limited to the pelvis and breasts, but involving many organ systems and structures.

It has been well said that the menopause is good for the race but bad for the woman. The menopause can be considered a deficiency disorder largely correctible by the use of the hormones (estrogens-androgens) which are no longer being produced.

Question: Are there any dangers from taking estrogens?

Answer: The theoretical possibility of producing a cancer of the uterus or breasts, which are so readily influenced by estrogens, was a more serious objection than the philosophical attitude mentioned above. But although cells may be made to proliferate in the target organs, there is no evidence that estrogens are cancer-producing.

Physicians usually interdict their use when cancer is present as a cautionary measure. However, I know one woman, a physician's wife, who has taken estrogens for years despite the fact that she has had a breast amputation years ago for cancer. There has been no evidence of recurrence.

Summer play

activities planned for school grounds

Playground activities in the Carmel School District for the summer months will consist of creative arts and crafts, organized games, trampoline and tumbling instruction, story hour and special events such as Circus Day, Pet Fair, etc. This program will be conducted at Woods, River and Tularcitos Schools from 1-4 p.m. each weekday.

The program is not planned for the pre-school child and parents are requested to bring only children ready for the first grade, or older.

Pre-registration is not required for playground activities or classes in sports, other than swimming (see page 3). Students interested in acrobatics, baseball, drama, golf, softball, and tennis will sign up at the first class period.

Schedules have been made available to students at the various schools, but further information on times may be obtained from the CUSD recreation office at 624-3342, from 9 a.m. to noon or 1-4 p.m.

Garden Thoughts

by Salih Mehdy

of the Oleander Garden Shop

In order to have your plant which is in a container well-balanced in growth and pleasing to the eye, the container should be turned a quarter turn about every six weeks. Thus, all the parts of the plant get an even share of the sun's rays. If it is heavy to turn you may place it on a plant coaster (a wooden or metal platform with castors). Shrubs and trees in containers eventually either have to be transferred to the next size container or root pruned and replanted in the same tub, adding fresh soil at that time. Such container plants also need more frequent fertilization, but use half-strength fertilizers.

Shallow light cultivation is beneficial to most plants. The soil absorbs the water better and becomes better aerated. Some plants have lots of their roots near the surface, such as rhododendrons, azaleas, and dogwood. In such a case mulch is the best to apply to the surface, rather than cultivation of the soil.

FERTILIZE ROSES

Fertilize your roses with liquid or dry fertilizer after the first burst of bloom is over, in order to prepare the bushes for another flowering cycle. Deep watering is far more beneficial than hasty wetting of the surface. The basins around roses and other shrubs should be cleaned and rebuilt in order to hold plenty of water. On slopes try to build most of the basin above the plant, as water will seep down by gravity.

Fuchsias are blooming now and you will have continuous blooming if you snip off the seed pods after the flowers wither or fall. Remember to pinch out the growing tips of branches to produce more bushy plants, and consequently more flowers. Fish emulsion at half strength (1/2 Tbsp. to Gal. of water) every 2 or 3 weeks, will give you a bumper crop of flowers and healthy plants.

BULB CARE

Most of the leaves of your spring-flowering bulbs are brown by now. You may lift them and store them in peat moss. Daffodils and other narcissi may be left in the ground for 4-5 years without lifting, provided you do not forget the spot where they are. Spading this spot will slice many of them.

Geranium blossoms are attacked by the tobacco budworm. It perforates the flowers, buds, and its excrement damages the undrilled buds by turning them brown or distorting their shape. DDT will control them.

After your spring-flowering shrubs and trees finish blooming, then is the time to prune them for shaping and to give a more tidy appearance.

You will get more of a crop from your tomato plants if you train each one on two 6-foot stakes. Thus the tomato fruits do not touch the soil and rot. You may spray the flowers with the hormone product "Blossom Set" to have a more bountiful crop.

NOW BLOOMING

There are two plants among our collection which are in their glory now. One is the Mme. "Veillard" clematis vine. It seems very content with its matic accent when in bloom, and the sharp-pointed leaves of the basal rosette are always striking. After flowering, at age 4-8 years, the plants which have produced no offsets or side plants will die. If there are offsets, they will grow on and form new specimens.

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan

A very proud Cmdr. (ret.) and Mrs. William Stowers received a certificate in the mail this week stating that their son, Bill Jr., a member of Co. E, 4th Bn., 3rd Training Brigade at Fort Polk, La., had completed a nine-weeks advanced training course as a trainee squad leader and had demonstrated outstanding leadership ability, promoting him to the rank of Private First Class.

By coincidence, it was just a year ago in July that P.F.C. Stowers viewed a graduation similar to the one in which he was an active participant last week, when he was in Louisiana at that time a member of the Sing-Out America troupe.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allaire of Dorris Drive invited playmates of their daughter, Annette, to accompany them to the Carmel Beach recently for a picnic celebrating Annette's tenth birthday. The birthday cake decorated in a Hawaiian theme with hula dancers, palm trees, and leis was the highlight of the picnic luncheon served to Bonnie Bean, Fran Hall, Sherry Swiess, Lyn Boursing, Marcia Cal, and Annette's sister, Yvonne.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bordonaro invited their neighbors to a Memorial Day barbecue at their home on Aliso Road. Appetites for the delicious potluck dinner were sparked by games of volleyball and horseshoes. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. George Mead, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Riddell, Col. (ret.) and Mrs. James Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Feldman, Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Frank Edwards, Mrs. Barbara Ascarate, Mrs. Mary Drobek, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sturgills, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Todd, and seventeen children.

Receiving congratulations on his appointment as new state inheritance tax appraiser for Monterey County is Valleyite Herb Brownell. The announcement was made by State Controller Houston I. Flournoy following the resignation of Mrs. Florence M. Viall.

BENEFIT PARTY

The benefit bridge and canasta party sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church was held last week at the home of Mrs. Philip Walker on Flight Road. Co-hostesses for the May party were Mrs. Rudi Plonese and Mrs. George Clifford.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with orchids, iris, and orchid cacti plants. Individual potted begonia plants were given as prizes for high points at each table.

Awards for the afternoon of play were made to Mrs. Paul Anthony in canasta; Mrs. Lois Ann Bethea who had high in bridge and a tied second to Mrs. Bernice Leoni and Maj. (ret.) Billie Mans.

The June party will be held on the 28th at the Robles del Rio home of Mrs. Mel Blevens. Those wishing to make reservations are invited to phone Mrs. Walker at 659-2280.

The Youth and Senior Choirs of the Carmel Valley Community Chapel held a potluck dinner last week for their members and their families. Mrs. Sunzah Park was in charge of preparations for the dinner held in Fellowship Hall. A beautifully decorated cake inscribed, "Goodbye Sue" was presented to Sue Beariswyl who is leaving to make her home in Washington, D.C. and a special tribute was paid to Mrs. Mabel Love who was celebrating her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Kameron of 80 Poppy Road gave a cocktail and dinner party Sunday afternoon at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club honoring the two doberman pinscher judges. Mrs. Rhys Carpenter of Downingtown, Pa. who judged the Dobs at the Cabrillo Show at the Carmel Valley Inn and Mrs. Bob Adamson of Long Island, N.Y., who judged the Dobe class at the Pebble Beach Del Monte Kennel Club Show.

Attending were Mrs. Kenneth Dyer of San Francisco, Mrs. Jeanie Butler of Walnut Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Thoral Warner of Yorba Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schwerin and Mr. Karl Vetter of Carmel, and Mr. Frank Heitman of Monterey. From Carmel Valley were Mrs. Nancy Hogans, Lt. and Mrs. James Walker, Lt. and Mrs. Warren Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Porter, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Waymire.

Mr. Kameron is treasurer of the Cabrillo Doberman Pinscher Club.

The Valley Bridge Club met Tuesday evening at the Community Center for an evening of duplicate bridge. Mrs. Irene Baldwin and her partner, Mrs. Mary Drobek were first place winners. In second place were Mrs. Charity Crane and Mrs. Sue Stoney. Making it clearly a 'ladies' night' were the third place team of Mrs. Mary Kunz and Mrs. Lois Bethea.

Receiving congratulations on their son, Patrick Kevin, who arrived April 26 at the Community Hospital are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grannis of 144 Robles del Rio. Patrick, who will carry on the middle name of his father, weighed 7 lbs. 7 oz. at birth. His maternal grandmother, Mrs. Jane Hampton of Palo Alto spent three days in the Valley getting acquainted with her grandson. Patrick also made first-time grandparents of Dr. Sanford Hampton of Auburn, Me., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Grannis who live in Lewiston, a short distance from Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Swiess invited a group of friends to return after the Wine Tasting Festival to their River Road home for a lasagna buffet. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Upham, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Denrenbaur, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Varner, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Langdon, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hugo, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Erion, and Mrs. Elaine Harvey.

OUTLOOK ON CARMEL

CARMEL VALLEY OUTLOOK

No problems keeping busy for PlanCom member Dorothea Roberts

The design and color sense of the artist is very evident the minute one enters the Carmel shop of planning commissioner, Dorothea Roberts. A professional painter, member of the Carmel Art Association and a NATIVE Carmelite, plus being a successful businesswoman, all contribute to her qualifications for this civic job.

Mrs. Roberts has been the owner and operator of Dorothea's Shop for petite women and juniors for the past six years and in September of last year opened Casa Dolores, just down the street, for misses clothing.

She was appointed to the Carmel Planning Commission job about a year ago, and, as a native Carmelite, is very enthusiastic and conscientious about the position. Although she has done extensive work with Red Cross and other local organizations, this is her first civic position.

However, she is another of those busy people who always have room for one more job.

ART STUDY

Her Carmel Art Association membership began in the early fifties and she has studied under the late Abel Warshawsky, Frank Meyer and Berton Bounty, specializing in portraiture and still life.

Along with all this, she and her husband Kenneth, who is with Northwestern Life Insurance, find time for fishing, camping, hiking and golf. In 1960 Dorothea was the club champion at MPCC.

The Roberts have three grown children. Nancy came home from a trip around the world, and a bit of time working in Australia, to manage one of her mother's dress shops in Carmel. Their son, Dio, works in Santa Monica, and David is presently in Carmel but will be returning to Foothill College in the fall.

As a forever resident, Dorothea has a tremendous desire to keep Carmel's atmosphere and image in the past, but direct its future business progress into the right channels so that the image is not ruined. Such things as the color of a building or wall, or the design of a sign can throw the whole thing out of kilter, as far as she is concerned.

MAINTAIN IMAGE

What can be done to maintain the image and charm of Carmel, but develop the commercial, is evident in her shop. Formerly El Fumidor, a tobacco shop and beer bar in El Paseo Court, the building had the architectural feelings of the Spanish, with heavy beams and high ceilings. It is scarcely recognizable now as the same space with a decor of stark white walls, dark stained wood, wrought iron fixtures, deep shaggy red carpeting and a few selected antiques as accessories.

A large part of her philosophy of planning commission responsibility is to keep Carmel enjoyable for the people who live here as well as those who visit on weekends and vacations.

Dorothea commented, "I'm one of those lucky people who can walk to town. I don't have to worry about parking, but we certainly have to worry about it for the majority of the people."

Although the many off-duty hours spent on planning commission work and time spent with her business cut down on the hours left in the day for painting "and other things she's interested in," be sure that Dorothea Roberts will keep busy, because she is a dynamic extrovert who couldn't be static if she wanted to.

'The Gleep' goes to San Diego

The touring company of White Oaks Theatre has been in San Diego since Monday performing for the first convention of Title One Administrators to be held in California.

Title One is a division of the Federal Elementary Secondary Education Act with funds distributed for compensatory education.

Over 200 school administrators are attending the convention where the latest teaching aids are being displayed.

White Oaks Theatre company is the only group which was invited to present the performing arts.

"The Wonderment of Gleep,"

New York hit next at Circle

One of the most prize-strewn plays of American theatrical history is coming to the Circle Theatre June 9.

"The Subject Was Roses," to be presented by the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula, opened in New York in May, 1964. At the end of April, 1965, it was crowned with the Pulitzer Prize, the N.Y. Drama Critics' Circle Award, the Tony Award, the Outer Circle Award, the Aegis Club Award.

Robert Heater and Gertrude Chappell will be starred in this rueful drama of a married couple's antagonisms that come to a furious outburst at the return of their son from his Army service.

Gordon Bloyers will play the boy whose homecoming is an occasion for outward display of joy and celebration.

This often humorous portrayal of family tribulation is under the direction of Norman McPhee. Derek Lawford and Carol McPhee have set its background with scenery representing a modestly prosperous Bronx apartment.

original children's play by director Gale Peterson, will be presented. "Gleep" has been shown to a number of student audiences through the state.

White Oaks Guild to serve champagne at theatre 'peek-in'

A "Champagne Peek-In" tasting tour will be held at White Oaks Theatre on Sunday, June 11, from 2-5 p.m. Sponsored by the Theatre Guild, the garden party will feature champagne tasting tables with bread and cheese and a conducted tour of the Theatre. Tickets at $1 will be available at the gate.

Those attending will be able to watch rehearsals of the first summer production, "The Knack," and visit backstage to see make-up demonstrations and costume preparations.

Husbands of the Guild members will host and theatre staff members will conduct tours.

Kellogg gallery shows history of print making

A print show, spanning the history of print making and presenting some of the technical apparatus of the etcher, as well as examples of rare printing papers, may be seen currently at the Jean Kellogg gallery on Del Fino Place in Carmel Valley.

"Print collecting can satisfy a number of motives, from a love of general information to a wish to philosophize about art, religion or poetry, or simply to enjoy a perfect technical product," Miss Kellogg explains in describing the show which she hopes will be educational as well as esthetically satisfying.

LEISURE TIMES

Alex Weygers holds 'open house' at studio

THIS FAIRY-TALE house under the oaks is part of Sculptor Alex Weygers' studio off La Rancheria.

The Carmel Valley artist is readying outdoor work areas now for the influx of students from near and far who participate in his annual summer workshop.

Prospective students and other art lovers are welcome to visit his studio on Sunday afternoon when

Open House is held from 2 to 5. Mr. Weygers likes his students to judge for themselves, from the quality and nature of his work, whether he is the teacher they seek.

The 6-week course runs 5 days a week, 8 hours a day from mid-June through July. It covers every facet of the sculptor's art, from tool-making (blacksmithing), selecting materials, clay modeling, plaster casting to direct carving in stone and wood without the aid of measuring devices, sketches or models.

Alex Weygers and his wife Marion are well-known to many Valley dwellers, for they have lived here... first in a tent and then in the charming house Mr. Weygers built... for almost 25 years. But they like to make new friends and Open House is a good time to meet them.

What makes this so special?

First — it's a good story — well told. The characters are carefully drawn:

Kimo with his pet pig—
Mr. Sutton with his big vocabulary—

Second — Our 50th state isn't like any other state and you'll see why.

AND —

So many of you know the author — some through her column in the Herald.

New Lutheran Church to hold first service on Sunday

St. Philip's Lutheran Church, located on Carmel Valley Road near Schulte Road, will have its first service in the new church this Sunday at 10 a.m.

The congregation will participate in a processional entry led by the pastor, Rev. J. Bernhard Brethme, the Church Council and Choir. The sermon will be based on the 84th Psalm which the Rev. Brethme will sing as his text.

The congregation has been meeting at the Middle School since November, 1965.

Ten 8th and 9th graders will be confirmed June 18th at the second worship service in the church.

Sunday schedule at St. Philip's includes 10 a.m. worship, followed by a 40 minute church school class at 11. Child-care is available.

In addition to the Church School, which is directed by Mrs. Merle Wilson of Fort Ord as superintendent, auxiliary activities so far include an adult choir under the leadership of Mrs. John Wolff of Berwick Drive, a youth group called the Luther League for high school age with Dave Nystrom of Carmel Knolls as president, and an A.L.C.W. for the women of the church with Mrs. Wayne McMillan of Pacific Grove as president.

An official Dedication Day is planned Sept. 10 when initial landscaping will be completed. The President of the South Pacific District of the American Lutheran Church, Dr. Gaylerd Falde of Los Angeles, has been invited for this event.

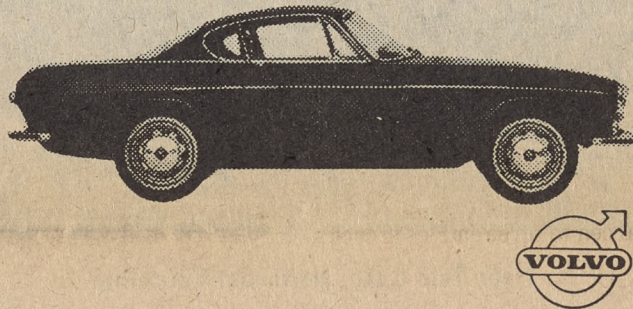

Friends and neighbors are invited to attend this Sunday's Service of Entry at 10 a.m. and to visit the new building. With the pastor's office at the church, he will be available for conference 624-6765, he will be available for conferences by calling either the church number or 624-1887.

As Road & Track magazine says:

"The Volvo 1800 S is a very civilized touring car for people who want to travel rapidly in style, a Gran Turismo car of the type much in the news these days, but at a price that many people who cannot afford a Ferrari or Aston Martin will be able to pay."

Ferraris and Aston Martins cost over $10,000. The Volvo 1800 S costs only $4200* and you can drive one home today.

Large graduating class at Carmel Middle School

The first graduation from Carmel Middle School will be held on Wednesday, June 14, at 6:30 p.m. in the gymnasium. With 230 graduating eighth graders, seating facilities will be limited and each student is allowed only three invitations to the ceremonies. The program for the evening is reprinted below:

Cypress swimmers take second place

Cypress Swim Club rose to second place in the 1967 Pacific AAU junior outdoor synchronized swimming championships last weekend at the San Marin Club in Novato.

The Cypress Club was edged out of first place by only half a point by the Howell Swim Team of Danville. The Howell Team had an extra member, giving them an automatic half point bonus. This, coupled with a higher score in stunt competition, made the difference, although the Cypress team out-scored them by 1 1/2 points in routine competition.

In duet competition, Cypress entries placed as follows: Jan and Sharon Roehl, third; Bonnie Banker and Judy Snyder, fourth; and Marnie Mark and Susie Selfridge, sixth.

Troop 127 of Carmel Valley went on a weekend trip to the Pinnacles recently. The boys started out the hike by doing a good turn in the Village that morning. They picked up weeds and paper. Mr. Ray parked about 4 miles from the campgrounds and then the boys hiked the rest of the way while Mrs. Eldridge and Mr. Engelbrecht drove on ahead with the firewood and jugs of water. (They found out they didn't need the water when they got there.) Everybody set out for the caves and came back sopping wet. The next morning some more boys set out for the caves again. They came back not as wet as the evening before. After those boys dried off, they caught up to the rest who were pulling weeds for the ranger. The boys wish to thank Mr. Engelbrecht and Mrs. Eldridge for bringing most of the wood and other things.

This bill will eliminate the inheritance tax appraiser as an appointive office, leaving the inventory and appraisal to estate administrators and lawyers. An appraiser may be named, if necessary for checking, by the controller. One of the aims of the bill is to get inheritance tax monies into the state treasury more rapidly (90 days sooner).

But short or long term job, Brownell was pleased and honored with his new appointment. He was sworn in by Judge Anthony Brazil in Salinas on May 26. Although he had been notified by phone of the pending appointment, the necessary papers had not yet reached him on the morning of the 26th and he was due in Salinas at 10 a.m.

The Post Office crew kindly got to work going through the accumulated mail, and sure enough... there were the necessary documents, so Herb made it on time.

Brownell has lived all over the Valley, originally in the first house to be built on the side of the mountain just below Robles del Rio Lodge. The present Lou's Casa Carmela Restaurant, adjacent to Brownell's Carmel Valley Realty office, used to be Herb's home, but he moved out "when too many people started knocking on the door asking for directions to acre parcel held by the Jacks Peak Trust, as a county park.

Stressing the fact that there has been a distinct lack of effort on the county's part to acquire open land for county parks in recent years, the CVPOA board was high in praise of the Jacks Peak Trust (Talcott Bates, Gordon Hall and Kenneth Ehrman) for withholding the acreage from development.

The piece of prime top land which divides Carmel Valley from the Peninsula proper is offered at a price of $170,000 which the board felt was reasonable.

The membership of the CVPOA has increased to over 450 according to Jim Miller, former CVPOA secretary was replaced John Briscoe who resigned because of moving from the area. Many members drawn from new residents have been responsible for the tremendous upsurge in membership and it was suggested that one vacancy left on the board be filled from this segment of Valley population.

The next CVPOA board meeting will be held on Thursday, July 6, at the Community Center. The board meetings are open to interested members.

Red Sox lead CV Little League at end of first half of season

By S.N. TREVINO

The Red Sox won first place in the first half of the Carmel Valley Little League season with 8 victories and a single loss. They were unexpectedly upset Tuesday 10-5 by the previously winless Tigers, but rebounded Saturday to beat the Giants 8-5.

In Tuesday's game the upsurging Tigers were not to be denied. Larry Scholink and Jason Johnson's four hitter was backed up by sparkling fielding which included a snappy double play that missed being a triple by an eyelash. The attack featured Sparky LaGrange's four-for-four and Mike Wellborn's triple. The strategy of walking hard-hitting Mike Feeney twice paid off. He was held to a double. Totals: Tigers 10 runs, 13 hits, 3 errors; Red Sox 5 runs, 4 hits, 3 errors. WP Larry Scholink. LP Bob Conlan.

In Saturday's game the Red Sox had to come from behind to overtake the fighting Giants 8-5 in a 70-minute game which set a record for brevity. The Giants took the lead 3-1 in the first inning. A triple by Bob Lewis in the third followed by singles by Dan Bethea and Mike Feeney gave the Red Sox a lead which they never relinquished. Dan Petree's triple in the fifth sparked a four-run inning. Don Weber and Mike Feeney struck out 12 batters, yielding only six hits. They were supported by errorless fielding. Totals: Giants 5-6-4; Red Sox 8-7-0. WP Mike Feeney, LP Mike Groves.

Thursday's, Giants-Volunteers game was rained out.

Saturday the Volunteers retained second place by taking a thriller from the Tigers 5-4. The Tigers had the winning run on in the final inning with one out, but reliever Tom Ocampo put out the fire with two strikeouts. Volunteer John Egli made an unassisted double play in the fourth. Rick Olmsted, Steve Hohler, and Tom Ocampo allowed the losers only three hits. The Tigers played errorless ball. Totals: Volunteers 5-9-1; Tigers 4-3-0. WP Rick Olmsted, LP Sparky LaGrange.

Standing at the end of the first half of the season: Red Sox 888, Volunteers 624; Giants 372, Tigers 111.

FARM TEAMS

In the Farm Teams league, the Pirates beat the Indians 9-6. Billy Neidinger, who was the winning pitcher, had a perfect day at bat with three hits. John Barry was the losing pitcher.

The Cubs maintained first place by snatching a close, over-time game 16-13 from the second place White Sox. It was 11-all at the end of the time limit. David Berta of the White Sox hit a home run. Don Hinton for the Cubs and Gary Eldridge for the White Sox connected for triples. WP Paul Jackson, LP Gary Eldridge.
